

Learning Disabilities Association of Ottawa-Carleton

The Learning Disabilities Association (LDA) of Ottawa-Carleton promotes increased awareness and respect for persons with learning disabilities (LDs) among the community at large, professional groups and relevant educational, social, recreational, medical, legal and vocational organizations.

By providing support, guidance, resource materials and opportunities for sharing of information and concerns, the LDA of Ottawa-Carleton assists persons with learning disabilities and their families to meet their evolving needs throughout their lifetime.

The LDA Canada and the LDA Ontario play a leadership role in actively advocating for greater research in the field of learning disabilities and for the legislative initiatives that will benefit the learning disabled.
