How is this important to you? Think about how much easier life would be if you understood the best way for information to be presented to you in order to ensure that you fully understand it.

At LEARNstyle, we know that everyone learns differently and that instruction needs to be customized for each individual to be successful. This customization presents the ongoing challenge of identifying learning styles in order to use this information in decision making that best supports each student's learning strengths and needs.

"PULSE (Personal Use Learning Evaluation) is our response to that challenge, as it serves as an ideal tool and resources for both students, parents and teachers to aid in student success and efficacy, especially in a virtual environment," says DJ Cunningham, CEO of LEARNstyle.

Through playing 12 games, the user's preferred learning profile will be identified in order to help them understand the best way(s) in which they learn. It also provides an online library database of resources to strengthen the abilities to acquire and retain new information. To make PULSE even easier to utilize, it can be taken anytime, anyplace and on any browser---and takes less than 30 minutes.

This resource is an indispensable tool in this new learning reality for teachers, parents and students throughout Ontario and Canada--and will become embedded in the daily flow of information throughout education.
